2 Livelihood Enhancement for PwDs

Persons with disabilities are considered as one of the marginalized groups in the whole world. They are disabled not only by their bodies but by society as well. Thus disability isn't only a health problem. It's a complex phenomenon that reflects the interaction between the features of an individual's body & characteristics of the society in which the person lives in.

We are working to Formulate and implement a sustainable model to promote the full and equal participation of persons with disabilities and create a path of self independence for them as well as promote the participation of Persons with Disabilities in the process of economic, social development and education.
